VOLUME 70

ELBA, ALABAMA 36323, THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 30, 1967

NUMBER 19

ELBA QUARTERBACK Johnny Sharpless (No. 11) salvages a broken play to start the scoring early in the first quarter as Elba defeated the Slocomb Red Taps 46-20 in the 14th annual Lions Bowl Wednesday, November 22. Brice Paul (No. 45) made one of the key blocks that allowed Sharpless to score.

Tigers Chalk Up Sweet Win, 46 - 20

The Elba Tigers scored half while racking up 26 points themselves. Quarterback Johnny Sharpless was the leading scorer for the Tigers with three but he is hasty to add that two of his were after his teammates had moved the ball within one or two yards of the goal line. Others scoring for Elba were David Stokes, Donnie Holley, Jerome Ward and Larry Grantham. Elba also scored when Brice Paul caught the Red Top quarterback in the end zone and grounded him for a safety.

The program will be by choral groups composed of 5th and 6th grades with a Christmas theme. They are under the direction of Mrs. Elba Kate Hamm and Mrs. Willen McCurley.

Elba's Tommy Dewberry and Jerome Ward each recovered Slocomb fumbles that led to scores for the Tigers.

In the final quarter scoring by the Elba team had become a matter-of-fact thing and team members were reminding the coach of "whose time it was to score" and in the last minute someone remembered that Larry Grantham had not scored so quarterback Sharpless threw a pass while trapped himself and Grantham ran through almost the entire Slocomb defense to reach paydirt.

David Stokes was named Elba's Outstanding Player of the game by the Lions Bowl officials after a close race with Jerome Ward. Both gained yardage at will through the Red Top defense.

Elba scored a total of 476 while Slocomb was held to 167.

Elba's Lillian Johnston became the first woman to serve on the board of directors of Alabama Electric Cooperative in the history of the 26-year old electric generation company.

Mrs. Johnston is the newly elected mayor of the City of Brundidge which purchases wholesale power from the Alabama Electric and is one of some 20 owner-members of the cooperative. Before becoming mayor, Mrs. Johnston served as city commissioner in charge of utilities.

The South Alabama town of Brundidge operates its own local electric distribution system bringing in revenue for city projects which otherwise would have to be paid for by increased local taxes or some other means of financing.

Alabama Electric is an Andalusia-based generation and transmission company which supplies wholesale power for use by some half a million people in Northwest Florida, a $40 million dollar complex in the midst of the two-year construction job on a new $12 million steam generation plant on the Tomlinson River which will provide a source of expanded power to homes, businesses and industries in the region.

Mrs. Johnston is the only woman mayor in the Wiregrass area and one of four in Alabama.

This building project

consist of 15 additional rooms, all private, one additional nursing station, double the size of the X-Ray facilities and lab, expand kitchen by one third and add a laundry in the basement.

When the Elba Hospital started qualifying for this additional money, only 9 rooms were on the allotment for the hospital. The state plan was later revised and Coffee's needs estimated at 15 and all those beds were allocated to Elba due to the overwhelming demand at the local hospital for rooms. This overall plan is used to divide the Hill-Burton funds within the state to the places that need them most.

These additional hospital beds should help the local authorities in efforts to secure additional doctors in Elba.

Construction approval of the proposed $375,000 Elba Hospital annex by the State Board of Health was announced November 23 by Dr. Ira L. Myers, health officer.

Project approval was granted at the board's November 15 meeting in Montgomery, pending release of federal funds by U.S. Public Health Service under provisions of the Hill-Burton Act. Notification of federal funding for Alabama totaling $7,409,659 was received November 21.

Funds with which to construct the Elba facility were approved as follows: $15,000 local funds; $225,000 federal funds. Thirteen other facilities throughout the state were approved for construction or modernization.

Excellence in scholarship, spirit and service has won for Jo Ann Brazelton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Brazelton of Coffee County, the 1967-68 Faculty Honors Committee of which Dean Paul T. Stone is chairman.

Mrs. Powell of Elba is serving as 1967-68 education chairman of the American Cancer Society, Alabama Division, Inc., in the Elba area of Coffee County.

The education chairman who serves on a voluntary basis with the assistance of many other volunteers, directs locally the American Cancer Society's program to save lives from cancer through public education.

The education program seeks to alert adults to the need for regular health checkups, and to acquaint them with cancer's seven warning signals.

In the Elba area of Coffee County, the ACS education program is sponsored by the Business and Professional Women's Club.

FARM-CITY WEEK was observed in Coffee County last week when about one hundred Coffee County town and rural people met for a special meeting in New Bricketon. Philip Martin, president of the Coffee County Farm Bureau, was in charge of the meeting. Principal speaker was Judge Winston Stewart, Executive Secretary of the Alabama Association of County Commissioners. Shown seated from left to right are Philip Martin and Judge Winston Stewart. Standing, left to right are Floyd Whitman, H.C. Collier, L.P. Mullins and Robert English.

Shots Planned In Afternoons At Health Office

The Coffee County Health Department announces that the immunization clinics which are held each Wednesday, will be in the afternoon only, during the months of December, January and February. Clinic hours will be from 1:00 p.m. to 4:30 p.m.

This is being done because less immunizations are given during these months. One-half day clinics will allow public health personnel to use their time to better advantage.

Full day clinics will be resumed March 1, 1968.

State Will Collect Tax For Elba

The City of Elba has passed an ordinance that allows the State of Alabama to collect the City sales tax at the time of collecting the state's portion of the current 5¢ sales tax. This is not an additional tax but will help the city get the amount required by present law. Several city officials have expressed a belief that some businesses have not been paying the City the full one percent tax as they should.

Feeder pig sales have topped the $1 million mark for the first time in the history of the Alabama Feeder Pig Association, Auburn University Livestock Marketing Specialist Dan Linton said this week.

Linton said last month's sales pushed the total to $1,000,791. About 5,000 feeder pigs have been auctioned in the 49 sales held so far this year by the six North Alabama feeder pig associations.

With November and December sales yet to be reported, Linton predicted that total sales may reach $1.25 million. Sales last year totaled $918,759.

Linton attributed the success of the sales to increased interest by producers who specialize in feeder pig production.

The specialist also announced that the Central Alabama Feeder Pig Association at Clanton will open for business in early 1968.

All children are urged to bring small gifts to place under the tree and adults are asked to bring gifts to be donated to the Veterans hospital.

The Alabama Constitution, which has undergone 246 changes already, can expect more alterations after December 5, when voters consider 16 proposed amendments.

The December 5th changes, which diverse areas as mental health and state parks, and also including seven changes which affect individual citizens or cities but require statewide approval.

The decision is left to the voters on a crash program of parks expansion, providing funds for the proposed Tennessee-Tombigbee Waterway project, and financing expansion of inland coves facilities.

The ballot also includes proposals to raise the debt limits of cities, earmark funds for the state wildlife program, and authorize local elections on a special tax for libraries.

The ballot also includes proposals to raise the debt limits of cities, earmark funds for the state wildlife program, and authorize local elections on a special tax for libraries.

The Elba Clipper is giving a brief analysis of the amendments that will appear on the ballot Dec. 5 in a front page display. Read it - study it and be sure to vote Tuesday.

TO ERR IS HUMAN - I read an article in the November issue of the Publisher's bulletin about how newspapers make occasional mistakes. One newspaper stated that "it's amazing there aren't more errors made." They said "Thankfully, we haven't yet had a string of errors like the one recently reported made by a small daily newspaper in the south, which started with the following classified ad on Monday:

"FOR SALE: John Doe (name not being used since a person in Elba has the same name) has one sewing machine for sale. Phone 958 after 7 p.m., and ask for Mrs. Kelly who lives with him at 7 p.m."

NOTICE: we regret having erred in John Doe's ad yesterday. It should have read: One sewing machine for sale. Cheap. Phone 958 and ask for Mrs. Kelly who lives with him after 7 p.m."

ON Wednesday - John Doe has informed us that that turkey growers are not as experienced as the experienced farmer explained why: "Turkeys are beautiful to look at, fragile as an orchid, and stupid beyond belief."

It seems that while drinking water, a young tom may be come hypnotized by the move of a turkey. When he comes to drink on the water, the turkey is often under a misapprehension, simply because they can't and the poultry house owner, if he is not a turkey expert, is not to eat, it would starve. Growers spread feed in front of the turkey, and it takes time to stampede a flock of turkeys. A turkey fluttering in the yard is not a turkey, it is a turkey in a yard. Growers want to prevent such accidents.

State Parks Have Cabins For Rent

Six of the nine major parks in the Alabama State Parks System have cabins available for rental during the fall and winter months, conservation Director Claude D. Kelley announced this week.

Cabins are available in Cheaha, Chevalier, DeSoto, Gulf State, and Monte Sano State Parks. Hiking along a nature trail in one of these parks is most invigorating in the crisp fall air.

Further details and rates may be obtained from the managers of the various parks.

IT'S UP TO YOU

Successful Example of Socialism

RECENT article from U.S. News and World Report entitled "The 'Ullman' in Sweden" has come to our attention. It is an increasing number of Americans, especially those who are interested in the future of our country, who are turning to socialism as a solution to our problems. This is a very real and serious threat to our way of life. We must be alert to the tactics of the enemy and be prepared to meet them. We must be alert to the tactics of the enemy and be prepared to meet them. We must be alert to the tactics of the enemy and be prepared to meet them.

EXTENSION COUNCIL retreats from town and city life.

What a pleasure it was to meet with some 45 members of the Coffee County Extension Council a few nights ago. The Council, under the leadership of President Brown Bryans and Vice President Howard Lasser, met at the Elba County Club to make plans for the 1968 Extension Program of Work. We were pleased with the excellent attendance. The enthusiasm for planning also made us feel good. We appreciate the work of these volunteer leaders in helping to bring the Elba a few nights ago on recreation. Kenamer pointed out that in the years ahead swimming is going to grow in popularity. In fact, he stated that in order to have successful recreation enterprises, it will be necessary to have water. Other recreational enterprises that will boom in the years ahead according to Kenamer include camping, facilities and all types of campers and trailers. Kenamer emphasized that people who have leisure time in the years ahead are going to want to "get away from it all" occasionally and that landowners can provide these.

RECREATION—L. F. Kenamer, our fish and wildlife specialist, spoke to the Rotary Club in Elba a few nights ago on recreation. Other recreational enterprises that will boom in the years ahead according to Kenamer include camping, facilities and all types of campers and trailers. YOUTH—At the Coffee County Extension Council planning meeting a few nights ago in Elba, all eight committee members were present to plan programs for 4-H Club members in 1968. This was the only committee with 100 percent attendance and believe that this points out the importance of our county leaders place on young people. Those attending and working on the youth committee were Mrs. Marion Sanders, Mr. and Mrs. Charles D. Lowry, Mr. J. E. Foster, older Elba owners can provide these.

HOME ORCHARDS—Muscadine grapes, figs, blueberries and blackberries can be grown with a minimum of care, as they usually do not require spraying. Peaches, plums, pears and bunch grapes must be sprayed to control insects and diseases if they are to produce satisfactorily. December and January are the best months for planting trees as this allows the winter rains to settle the soil around the roots.

4-H Beef Shows Build Character In Youths

More than 1,000 Alabama 4-Hers are feeding and grooming their calves for next spring's beef calf show that will be held in practically every county. District and state shows will follow. Coffee County has over 30 steers on feed. "Standing in the winnowers' circle has many pleasures for youngsters," says Extension Animal Science Chairman Dr. J. W. Gossett. "It also involves many responsibilities. And raising a prize-winning calf can mean a great deal of pride in his work," continues Dr. Gossett. He learns to lose as well as win.

The Auburn University Extension division chairman adds that participation in steer shows is a wholesome activity. Young people gain from them the satisfaction of knowing they have done their best.

Beavers Counted

There are believed to be more than 100,000 beavers in Alabama and probably an equal number in each of three other states—Georgia, Mississippi and Arkansas, says Earl F. Kenamer, Extension wildlife specialist.

The Alabama Forestry Products Association and the Alabama Department of Conservation held a beaver symposium recently, adding to the knowledge of the latest beaver control information. Major timber company officials present said beavers were flooding tremendous acreages of bottomland hardwood timber in the four states.

Two acceptable methods of control were discussed: trapping beavers by landowners with No. 330 Victor Conibear traps, and draining pipe from beaver ponds by using a perforated pipe, or three-log drain.

Every year some folks tell me that they just seem to get these pine tree seedlings to live. I most of these difficulties can be traced to two causes: planting too late or not caring for seedlings correctly before planting. If you pick up a few trees at our office for planting, we will be sure to keep the roots wet until they are planted. One way to do this is to dig a little V-shaped trench and place the roots in this and cover with dirt and water. Properly killed in they will keep several weeks. Be sure to place seedlings in the ground so that main root is straight and plant about the same depth they were planted in the nursery.

HOME ORCHARDS—Muscadine grapes, figs, blueberries and blackberries can be grown with a minimum of care, as they usually do not require spraying. Peaches, plums, pears and bunch grapes must be sprayed to control insects and diseases if they are to produce satisfactorily. December and January are the best months for planting trees as this allows the winter rains to settle the soil around the roots.

4-H Beef Shows Build Character In Youths

More than 1,000 Alabama 4-Hers are feeding and grooming their calves for next spring's beef calf show that will be held in practically every county. District and state shows will follow. Coffee County has over 30 steers on feed. "Standing in the winnowers' circle has many pleasures for youngsters," says Extension Animal Science Chairman Dr. J. W. Gossett. "It also involves many responsibilities. And raising a prize-winning calf can mean a great deal of pride in his work," continues Dr. Gossett. He learns to lose as well as win.

The Auburn University Extension division chairman adds that participation in steer shows is a wholesome activity. Young people gain from them the satisfaction of knowing they have done their best.

COFFEE NEWS & CHAT

BY SARA E. HUTCHINSON

Warren Hollis and Mrs. Charles Locklar.

TRAINING MEETING Tomorrow, December 1, Mr. George Perez will conduct the second lesson of the Medical Self-Help Training Program.

Extension Homemakers Vice-presidents in each of the clubs are urged to attend so they will be trained in club duties. The vice-presidents are Mrs. C. P. Meacham, Mrs. Earl Stinson, Mrs. Lucy Murdoch, Mrs. T. B. Byrd, Mrs. James Jolley, Mrs. Buford Manning, Mrs. N. W. Rhoades, Mrs. Albert Dyess, Mrs. Orice Nelson, Mrs. Fred Sherer, Mrs. Vernon Carter, Mrs. Charles Mallory, Mrs. Edith Maddox, Mrs.

NUTRITION This month in Extension Homemakers Clubs we have studied some nutrition facts. One fact discussed was that no cure has been found for the common cold. But we can help the body resist bacterial infection. Vitamins A and C help the linings of the nasal passages fight invasion by cold germs. In addition, vitamin C speeds up the healing of burns and wounds.

Leaky green vegetables, yellow vegetables, citrus fruits, tomatoes, milk, butter, eggs and cheese are all excellent sources of vitamins A and C. One other fact discussed was that protein is found in some foods, although we usually think of protein coming from meats and meat substitutes. Fruits with some proteins are apricots, avocados, dates and dried peaches.

SOYBEANS Last week Mrs. Mae Dubose came by the office to ask about soybeans. She had some muffs baked from soybean flour and sunflower seed. All three products were delicious.

35 Deer Killed With Bow & Arrow

Conservation Director Claude D. Kelley reported Monday that 35 deer were reported harvested with bow and arrow during the recent archery hunting season on the public hunting areas of Alabama.

"This was the most successful archery hunting season we've ever had in Alabama," Kelley said. Officials in the Conservation Department's Division of Game and Fish said additional deer taken not yet have been reported.

Reynolds W. Thrasher, Assistant Chief of the Game and Fish Division, said a growing interest in the hunting of deer with bow and arrow has continued for the first time this year and the trend toward increased archery hunting will continue.

The success of archery deer hunting was attributed to the fact that there are more harvestable deer available and the fact that the unharmed deer were legal game in some areas.

SOCIAL SECURITY

When a person reports that he is working, the benefits will be stopped for the necessary number of months based on what he expects to make for the year. Mr. Scott emphasized that it's easier to stop and start checks than it is to pay back money which was not due. At the end of each year an adjustment will be made based on the actual earnings.

BENEFICIARIES SHOULD REPORT WHEN WORKING

Social security beneficiaries who work should report this promptly. Harry N. Scott, District Manager for Social Security in Dothan, today offered this word of advice to beneficiaries in this area. "Earnings of $1500 or less will ordinarily not affect receipt of monthly checks—benefits will continue throughout the year." However, he did issue this warning to avoid a possible overpayment in benefits during a year. "Earnings in excess of $1500 a year will result in a loss of some, or all, benefits for that year. Thus, when a person who is receiving social security benefits starts to work, this work should be reported promptly if they expect to earn over $1500 for the year."

According to Mr. Scott, a number of overpayments have been caused in recent months by a misunderstanding as to when to report. So many beneficiaries think they should wait until the $1500 is reached and then report the earnings. Often times it's too late then, for the beneficiary is already overpaid. Naturally this works a hardship when the person has already spent the money.

The office is located in the Federal Building, 100 West Third Street, Dothan, Ala., and is open from 8:45 a.m. to 5:00 p.m., Monday through Friday, 10:00 a.m. to 12:00 noon on Saturdays.

However, when a patient's physical condition, as a history of repeated heart attacks, indicates to his physician that he must be hospitalized, the performance of noncovered dental services, the hospital expense will be covered by the hospital insurance program even though the dentist's services are not covered.

SP'ELL OF ILLNESS QUESTION ANSWERED Question: I know that a "spell of illness" does not end until there has been a period of 60 consecutive days during which the beneficiary was not a patient in a hospital or extended care facility. Will this "spell of illness" end, and thus renew the patient's hospital insurance rights, under a new spell of illness, if he spends this 60-day period in a nursing home which is NOT an extended care facility?

Answer: If the nursing home provides simply custodial care and not skilled nursing services, yes, the spell of illness will end after the patient spends 60 consecutive days in this facility. But as long as a person remains a patient in a nursing home which does provide skilled nursing services—whether or not the nursing home is participating in medicare—as an extended care facility—the spell of illness does not end. It should be noted that the law does not speak of 60 days during which a person was not an inpatient of a hospital or extended care facility participating in medicare. Rather, he must not be, during a period of 60 consecutive days, in an inpatient of any hospital or extended care facility.

Basically, the definition of an extended care facility for this purpose rests on whether the institution is primarily engaged in providing skilled nursing care and related services. When a beneficiary has used all his extended care benefits in one spell of illness and continues to be an inpatient in any skilled nursing home, he cannot, so long as he remains in the institution, qualify for a new spell of illness.

'48 Class Reunion Held In Whitman Home

Saturday night, members of Elba High School's graduating class of 1948 held a party in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Whitman.

The reunion was planned by a committee, composed of Travis Whitman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Whitman; Miriam Hudson Farris, Betty Ann Bryan Bone, and Hazel Hall Ray.

Medicare claims can be paid faster, according to Harry N. Scott, District Manager for Social Security in Dothan, if beneficiaries keep proper records. The local Social Security office has a medicare kit available for those desiring this. It is designed for keeping medicare bills in order which will help claimants when filing applications for reimbursement.

Residents of this area are invited to call or visit the office to obtain one of these kits. Mr. Scott also advises everyone to attach receipts of doctor's bills to their Medicare claim for reimbursement. If help is needed in completing this claim, the Social Security office will be available for assistance.

The office is located in the Federal Building, 100 West Third Street, Dothan, Ala., and is open from 8:45 a.m. to 5:00 p.m., Monday through Friday, 10:00 a.m. to 12:00 noon on Saturdays.
